Jona-1 adopted as model village under SAGY

Though Clean Arunachal fortnight has concluded, cleanliness drives continued in Pasighat today.

According to a report, a mass social service was conducted in Ward no. 3 of Pasighat today.

Around 400 people actively took part in the drive and cleaned the entire area of Forest colony, Agam colony and Donyi Polo area.

The social service was organized under the initiative of Councilor (ward no. 3) Maglek Yomso. He appealed to the dwellers of his ward to encourage this type of noble works which benefits the people more than any other thing.

Though Clean Arunachal fortnight is over, the cleanliness drives will not be over here, he said, and urged them to conduct similar social service regularly.

NAMSAI, Feb14: Jona-1 village Panchayat under Lathao circle in Namsai district has been adopted as a model village under Sansad Adarsh Gram Yojana by Arunachal East MP Ninong Ering.

Addressing a gathering on Saturday, Ering urged all concerned to devote for holistic development of the village. He requested all the stake holders to take steps as envisaged in the guidelines for improvement of the standard of living and quality of life of the villagers through providing them improved basic amenities, higher productivity, enhanced human development, better livelihood and reduced disparities, access to rights and entitlement and wider social mobilization.

Namsai DC, R K Sharma directed all concerned departments to conduct survey of the village so that a master plan for convergence of all government sponsored schemes and mobilization of local NGOs and public could be done at the earliest. The DC emphasised on preparation of a realistic and perfect Village Development Plan involving all the stakeholders.

Namsai Zilla Parishad Chairperson, Chow Kyasing Mounglang, ZPM Chow Mahajini Chowpoo, DVO Dr. K Sarmah and SDAO also spoke on the occasion.

The function was attended by district heads of various government departments, Panchayat leaders, Gaon Buras, NGOs and public of the village.
